And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

Our family spent this past weekend in San Antonio attending the Texas Press Association Summer Convention and visiting the HemisFair. It did not take long to figure out that you can not see HemisFair in one day.

There are countless places that you would like to spend hours just looking. We did not have time to much more than walk through the Institute of Texas Cultures and could have easily spent the afternoon there.

We found that the fair is like most places — you can make it as expensive as you want to. But if you want to see the fair on a limited budget you can. You can spend your $2 for gate admission and spend the day there and be out only the additional money for food if you desire.

The food prices are about what you would expect and there, too, you can spend as much as you like, or just about as little as you like.

Of the places that are not free, we would recommend two. The first would be the Wax Museum in the Lone Star building and the second is the show, "Laterna Magika."

The first thing we would recommend to Fair goers before or after they get on the grounds is to get a Humble map of the fairgrounds. This appears to be the best one available and this includes the official one you get with your guide book. The official map makes a great souvenir but it is not much for finding your way from one side of the Fair to the other.

Up to now the crowds have not been too bad but we hear that they are expecting things to pick up during July and August.

We also understand that Visitors Services down there has been able to find rooms for everyone that has requested them up to now.

At the close of the press meeting Saturday we had the pleasure of hearing the Hon. Leon Jaworski, Houston lawyer and chairman of the President's Crime Commission, speak on "Crime Prevention and Control."

We were glad to hear a man of his national stature come out against the rioting and looting that has plagued this nation for the past few years. He feels that this is one of the major causes of our increased crime and that those taking part should be punished.

He opposes those who feel that the only laws that they should obey are those laws that they believe in. He does believe that if the laws are wrong they should be changed, but by action through the legislature and the courts, not by mob violence.

He also feels, like many people, that the Supreme Court has gone too far in its control over law enforcement to the benefit of the criminal element. He said that he felt that every defendant should be given every protection of the constitution — but not one iota more.

He told the editors and publishers present that he would like to see after every riot, every paper in the country carry on its front page in a box, if you please, a story reminding both the public and the officials that riots and looting are illegal. He believes that public opinion is the only thing that will stop the lawlessness in this country.

It seems that we were misinformed last week about Jim Johnson's grand slam homer being the first one this season. Alvin Lujano hit one earlier in the season we have since learned. We are not going to venture the guess as to whether or not his is the first or not.

We are borrowing the following from the Albany News.

A preacher asked an unbelieving acquaintance what he had against going to church.

"Plenty," snapped the man. "First time I went to church they sprinkled water on me. The second time they tied me to a woman I've had to support ever since."

"Yes," said the minister, "and with an attendance record like that, the next time they will throw dirt in your face!"

SIDEWALK SCENES — Merchants displayed goods for sale on the sidewalks in front of their businesses Thursday during the second annual Sidewalk Sale sponsored by the trade development committee of the Board of Community Development. These scenes were taken as people shopped and remained in town for the Rodeo Parade at 4 p.m. Costumes worn by some of the sales personnel added to the colorful atmosphere.

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One takes a minor look at the tax situation this week, more or less.

Dear editor:

I don't know that this is very important, but there are so many starkly important things staring us in the face from one side of the world to the other these days that when a man runs across an unimportant one he ought to grab hold of it. There aren't too many of them left.

At any rate, I read an article on an inside page of a newspaper last night about a motorist in England who refused to pay a 12-cent toll to cross a bridge because, he said, the tax was imposed 900 years ago by King Canute and couldn't possibly apply to a modern automobile. Despite the fact that since the year 1023 people have continued to pay the tax, he said, 900 years is long enough and he refused to pay. Of course they took him to court and made him pay anyway.

Clearly that man doesn't know the first thing about taxation.

He should have been grateful that King Canute thought up the idea of charging him only for crossing the bridge. Had Canute been on the ball he would have taxed a man to come onto the bridge, then taxed him an equal amount to get off the other end. Have you got time to figure up how much tax money England would have brought in during the past 900 years if that bridge tax had been 24 cents instead of 12? Probably could have made enough to have left the tax off tea and saved us the trouble of holding Presidential elections.

Another thing that man doesn't know about taxation is that a tax's age has nothing to do with it. The longer ago a tax was thought up, the more used to it people become and the easier it is to collect. The easiest tax to collect is one that was thought up and put into effect before you were born. If we're smart we'll be figuring out some taxes now to go into effect just before the next generation arrives.

The fact that King Canute may have told his people that bridge tax was just a temporary measure till England got on its feet, has nothing to do with it.

Any man who has studied the matter knows that there's nothing more temporary than a permanent wave or more permanent than a temporary tax.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Overwinter Weevils Causing Minor Cotton Damage

Overwinter weevils, flea-hoppers and thrips are causing minor damage to some fields of cotton in Jones County, says Jones County Agent Kirby Clayton. Darkling beetles, cutworms and armyworms have destroyed some early cotton just coming up and some fields have been replanted, says Clayton.

Farmers who have overwintered weevils and other early season insects should apply one application of a mild insecticide at the five to five and one-half week old stage and then stay out of the field until infestation counts force you back in. Excessive spraying near the fruiting stage could result in a bollworm outbreak which would be most difficult to control.

Late season application should be based upon actual insect counts, taking into consideration your available moisture and crop potential. Farmers who need additional information on insect control should call by the county agent's office.

Nitrogen Sidedress To Increase Grain Sorghum Yield

Farmers who are searching for a little extra grain sorghum yield this summer may want to apply 30 lbs. sidedress of nitrogen on tight soil and a combination of nitrogen phosphorus and possibly patash on the sandy soils. Jones County Agent Kirby Clayton says that some tests have shown an increase in yields over the past several years, but few have given an economic return.

The agent suggests that farmers may want to try a sidedress application on a few acres to determine its value on your own farm. Former tests have all been run by putting the fertilizer down behind chisel before planting. Sidedress applications may possibly give a greater economic return.

HAVE A NEW GRAND-CHILD? That's news...Call the HERALD.

MAKING WAY...

The drawbridge makes way for the boat to come into the city and down the canal. Dredges make canals in open waters such as the gulf to make way for ships to travel an inter-coastal waterway. Police officers and secret service men clear a path in the crowds to make way for an important foreign potentate so that he might arrive at his destination.

Church members are the ones who can clear the way, and show the right path to those who have not found the way to our Lord.

Isaiah 40:3B reads, "Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert a highway for our God."

Support your church in every way you can. Ask someone to attend church with you this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Burleson Sees Battle Shaping Up In Congress Over Tariffs, Quotas

Omar Burleson, M. C. 17th District, Texas
WASHINGTON, D. C. — One of the greatest battles on tariffs and quotas since the enactment of the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Act of 1930 is shaping up in the Congress. At least 50 industries touching all parts of the Country are voicing complaints about foreign competition in hearings now underway in the House Ways and Means Committee.

About 25 Bills, some of which have as many as 25 sponsors each, have been introduced to limit imports on specific goods, ranging all the way from steel to mink skins and strawberries.

The import situation has much to do with our imbalance of payments and the threat to the integrity of the dollar all around the world. The reasons for such conditions can be greatly oversimplified since every factor involved is complicated.

At the end of World War II the industrial nations of Western Europe and Japan were rehabilitated largely with American funds. Today in many industries their factories are more modern than our own, enabling them to produce by the assembly line method and to fill orders on schedule. Previously, the United States could hold its markets pretty well for its dependability of delivering orders on time with higher quality products. This advantage in many industries has been lost.

We often hear that we are pricing ourselves out of the world market. This is true in many respects but the reason for it makes a long story.

Foreign produced goods in many instances have a Government export subsidy. Generally speaking, and the reason most given, is the maintenance of the high standard of living enjoyed in the U. S. in proportion to that of any other country in the world. The high standard of living comes about for many reasons, not the least is that a Minimum Wage and working hours set by law.

Another reason complicating the situation is the investments of American industries overseas. It is one thing to place quotas and tariffs on foreign owned and produced goods. It is another to limit shipments of goods produced abroad by our own industries. A case in point is petroleum products. Until the late 1940's States was a net exporter of and early 1950's the United States was a net exporter of petroleum products. Commencing at about this time we became a net importer. With the opening of the vast oil fields in the Middle East; with heavy involvement by our own major oil companies; with uncontrolled production and wages at 28c a day, our independent oil operators have been in trouble ever since.

In 1957 a Mandatory Import Oil Program was passed by the Congress, limiting imports of foreign crude oil to 12.2 per cent of domestic production. The law was based on national security considerations. In time of war or disruption such as occurred in the Middle East and the lack of the use of the Suez Canal which has since twice occurred, it has proved the proposition that we should not permit our domestic industry to deteriorate, causing dependence on foreign shipments.

Unfortunately, Government policy administered by the Interior Department has permitted loopholes to occur in the Law to the point that the Program is becoming meaningless unless the law is amended to close opportunities for circumvention.

Along with others who are trying to find answers for mounting threats to domestic industries, those of us interested in the domestic oil producer must throw our full efforts in the fight.

The outcome is uncertain on any tightening of quotas and tariffs during this Session of the Congress. The biggest battle on the over-all issue will likely occur in 1969.

AUSTIN — Arrival at the mid-way mark in the 30-day special legislative session touched off an explosion of activity in key areas of spending, taxation and liquor-by-the-drink.

Both House and Senate passed versions of the 1969 budget and went to conference committee to work out the differences.

House passed by a narrow margin (78 votes to 67) Gov. Connally's bill to permit liquor by the drink sales in mini-bottles under taxation and strict regulation.

House Revenue and Tax Committee sent out for debate and full House action Connally's $119 million tax package. This controversial measure hopefully will land in conference committee this week after amendments in both houses.

Representatives voted overwhelmingly for a $474 million general revenue budget, senators for a $479.7 million general fund appropriations measure. House version would require $132.6 million in new revenue, Senate bill $137.9 million. All phases of Connally's tax liquor-by-the-drink legislation were designed to raise $127.2 million, so additional revenue must be found.

House fought a bitter battle over the mini-bottles bill which was combined with proposals of a sub-committee for strengthening liquor laws. Tax on little bottles and increased fees will produce over $8 million. An additional $6.5 million would come from a gross receipts tax on private clubs, as called for in Connally's tax bill.

Margin on mini-bottles in the Senate is said to be even closer than in the House. Poll takers said 14 to 15 senators would be counted as sure supporters.

A sales tax increase to three per cent is certain to figure in the final tax package. This whether the legislature votes a straight rate hike or goes along with Connally's plan to raise the rate and rebate 75 per cent of the take to cities (in lieu of their present local option sales tax levy). Connally also proposes to put sales tax on many services and cigarettes.

Mini-bottles bill would make one-drink-sized containers available in licensed hotels, clubs, restaurants, planes and trains. Sellers would have to do at least a third as much business in food sales as on liquor. Mini-bottles probably will be expensive, since they would carry a tax of about 10 and a half cents each. Sellers will have to pay the state permit fees ranging from $500 in the smallest towns to $1,250 in cities over 250,000. Furthermore, cities and counties can match the charge.

Bill also sets specifications for private clubs and raises fees, although it will allow managers and most other employees to issue guests cards to the drop-in trade and it authorizes credit card sales.

Legislation would further permit 16-year-olds to sack beer in groceries and serve as bus-boys where mini-bottles are handled. It would outlaw gambling, increase punishment for permitting minors to buy or consume alcoholic beverages, raise beer dealers' license fees from $30 to $150, provide for faster sale of confiscated liquor by the state and make most of the Texas Liquor Control Board records available to public inspection. Barring logjams the legislature has a fair chance of beating its deadline and winding up must business in a single session.

GIN DUST — One of the ARCHERY INSTRUCTOR — Mike Murphree instructs a Boy Scout in archery at Camp Tonkawa Scout Camp near Buffalo Gap. Instructing for six weeks of Boy Scout camp, he will be there for three more weeks. After the regular camp schedule, he will work in the OEO program, a one-week camp for under privileged. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Murphree and will be a sophomore at University of Texas at Arlington in the fall.

differences between the Senate and House is whether the Texas Air Control Board is going to be allowed to require cotton gins to put in dust-abatement devices.

Senate voted to strike out a "rider" which would prohibit the board from spending any money on activities connected with cotton gins. But the House voted to keep it in, by a vote of 95-47.

This prohibition was put into the present appropriations law in 1967. It led to a blast at the Legislature by some members of the Air Control Board. But a provision put into the air pollution control law in 1967 cannot be changed by this session of the Legislature . . . so it operates effectively to keep the Air Control Board out of the cotton business.

However, the ginning industry has been working with the Board and has been doing research aimed at reducing the air pollution problem caused by gin operations.

DRUNK TESTS ADVANCED — A bill to require those suspected of driving while intoxicated to submit to breath or blood tests on penalty of having their licenses suspended has been approved by the House State Affairs Committee.

Legislation provides that a driver gives implied consent to undergo chemical testing to determine if he is drunk when charged with the offense.

Most other states have similar laws as required by the 1966 federal highway safety act.

Tests showing a blood content of one-tenth per cent alcohol by weight would be prima facie evidence of being under the influence of alcohol.

to appear in court. Those with Arresting officers would have religious objections to blood drawing could take a breath test.

RURAL ROADS — That long-quit farm-to-market roads fuss has come back to life.

Some city legislators are pushing a bill to do away with the $15 million a year of general tax money which is being spent on rural roads. They want it spent on city streets. But their efforts have failed so far.

TAVERN "MONOPOLY" — Fort Worth Dist. Atty. Frank Coffee, testifying before a House committee on a bill to regulate vending machine companies under the Liquor Control Board, claimed a single coin machine concern controls hundreds of Texas taverns.

Coffee says 85 per cent of taverns in Fort Worth owe money to the concern which operates under many names. He said the same conditions exist in most other cities. Vending machine chain, the district attorney testified, started with B & B Music Company in El Paso. Former LCB Administrator Coke Stevenson Jr. recommended regulation of the vending machine operators and that they be barred from the tavern business.

DRAFT QUOTA CUT — Texas draft quota for next month has been reduced by 266 men from June order to total of only 695.

However, State Selective Service headquarters reports that more than 5,300 will be called in for pre-induction physical and mental exams in July.

May call was 528 above the July figure, since additional manpower was needed for the Marine Corps. All July inductees will be for the Army.

NATURAL - FIBERS INDUSTRY — State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has released the results of an evaluation of the natural-fibers industry in Texas. Evaluation was ordered by a legislative committee to determine the impact of cotton, wool and mohair on the state economy.

Evaluation says that the three natural fibers — their growth on the farm and related agribusinesses of transporting, processing and distribution — are of "vital importance in maintaining a balanced agricultural production, effective land utilization and support of the rural economy of society in general.

Texas leads all states in the production of each of the three natural fibers.

SHORT SNORTS — State Banking Board received application for a new Bank of North Texas in Hurst.

Texas Railroad Commission raised July oil production to 3,055,344 barrels a day after getting reports that imports of oil have not been as high as was expected.

Mrs. R. O. Gibson Sr. has returned home after spending five days in the Hospital at Stamford.

Herbert Klump had to return to the hospital for further treatment last week.

Mrs. Cecil Klump and Mrs. Faye Dunham of Rule were judges for the Zion Walter League Talent Quest held at Sagerton last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Emma Newman of Amarillo and Mrs. Roy Weinke of Lubbock were here last week visiting their sister Mrs. Katie Gerloff and their brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Beno Herttenberger. Mrs. Weinke also visited her mother-in-law, Mrs. W. G. Wienke.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Rinn of Spur stopped by one day last week to visit Mr. and Mrs. Ben Klump. They were here again last Sunday visiting friends and attended church at Old Glory Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Jennings and daughter have returned to Amarillo. Mrs. Jennings spent three weeks here while her husband attended school in Houston. They are planning to move to Utah in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gholson visited his mother, Mrs. Flora Gardner in Wichita Falls, recently.

Mrs. Lynn Flowers and her sister, Mrs. James Overton of Stamford, visited the R. H. Pardue's in Abilene last Thursday.

Mrs. Fred Hines of Burnett visited recently with Mrs. Minnie Schmidt. Mrs. Hines and Mrs. Schmidt were old school friends.

Mrs. Minnie Schmidt and Paul took her sister, Mrs. Andrew Anderson of Lueders, to an eye specialist in Abilene Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Duden-sing and Mrs. Minnie Schmidt and Paul visited in Breckenridge Sunday.

Rebecca Letz returned last week from a 13-day trip to Washington, D. C., sponsored by Stamford Electric Cooperative. She qualified for the all-expense-paid trip by winning the REA Oratorical Contest last March.

The Texas group spent three and one-half days riding by chartered bus to Washington, D. C. through Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee, and Virginia, returning the same way. The rest of the time was spent touring the Capitol city and visiting points of interest. Rebecca recalls National Rural Electric Association Day when the entire group of 900 young people and sponsors from 27 different states met President Johnson on the south lawn of the White House. That evening the entire group gathered in the ballroom of the Marriott Hotel for dancing, folk games and various other activities.

Miss Letz appreciated the honor bestowed on her when the Texas delegation selected her and one boy to place a wreath on President John F. Kennedy's grave when they visited Arlington National Cemetery.

She was also selected for the girl who will represent the Texas Delegation at the Rural Electric Coop. Convention at Dallas Aug. 23.

She says that in addition to being given the opportunity to visit all the points of interest she also gained a better understanding and deeper appreciation of people on the trip.

Rebecca is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Letz of Old Glory, and she will be a senior in Old Glory High School this fall.

Last Friday she and her mother were accompanied by Mrs. Cecil Klump to Abilene where she was interviewed by Harry Holt for his On The Farm T. V. program.

Charlie Letz, 70, rural mail carrier out of Old Glory for the past 44 years, will retire the last of June with more than 400 days of sick leave to his credit, accumulated throughout the years because he never had the occasion to use it.

He was the first and only rural mail carrier operating out of Old Glory. His route started as a tri-weekly service to farmers and ranchers north of town. It has now grown to a route of 99 miles, operating out of the Rule post office to Old Glory, then north of town, to the west, half way to Aspermont, and south and east to Sagerton, and back to Rule.

Fourth of July Traffic Deaths Estimated At 38

AUSTIN — The acting director of the Texas Department of Public Safety today called for "heads up" driving on the part of Texas motorists over the upcoming four-day Fourth of July weekend to help bring about a reduction in the estimated toll of 38 lives in traffic during the holiday period.

Wilson E. (Pat) Speir announced that "Operation Motorcade," a special emphasis program designed to focus attention on the added dangers of holiday travel, will be placed in effect from 6 p.m. Wednesday, July 3, through 11:59 p.m. Sunday, July 7.

Traffic fatalities will be tabulated by the DPS throughout the period, and the totals will be announced officially three times daily as a means of keeping safety uppermost in the minds of the motoring public, he said.

"It is a known fact that the unusually crowded conditions of the highways on Independence Day holidays makes driving more hazardous than usual," Speir said. "Past experience and the present trend of traffic deaths indicate that 38 persons will lose their lives in traffic accidents during the 102-hour period of the holiday this year, according to DPS Statistical Services. This means that on the average one person will be killed in traffic every two and-a-half hours.

"Of course, we hope this proves to be too high an estimate, and will do everything we can to keep down the expected toll of lives and suffering from accidents. As part of this effort, we will be utilizing additional personnel from our other uniformed services to augment the regular Highway Patrol force during the holiday period.

"However, the most important effort needs to come from the drivers themselves who, of course, have the most at stake. We can talk all we please about inadequate highways, we can talk about mechanical defects, but in the end, the vast majority of all accidents and fatalities can be traced directly to misbehavior, misjudgment, recklessness, negligence, and mixing drinking and driving.

Mesquite Control Demonstration Set

Mr. Farmer! Mr. Businessman! WE NEED YOUR HELP.

Cotton is by far the major income crop in the Rolling Plains, accounting for about 40% of total agricultural income. Annual sales average well over $50 million. Processing, transportation, storage, and insurance provide additional millions. Farmers are the biggest users of gasoline, tires, machinery, fertilizers, insecticides, and credit. The majority of all citizens in this area directly or indirectly, depend on cotton for most of their income.

Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., is a local non-profit organization, chartered by the State of Texas, to promote the welfare and protect the interests of the cotton industry in the 32 county Rolling Plains area. Activities are carried out under the direction of a 64 man Board of Directors, 2 from each county, who serve without pay. The organization has been tremendously successful, and has earned State and National recognition.

RPCG depends on voluntary contributions for operating funds. Due to the short crop in 1967, income was reduced 25%. Costs are up. We must have additional funds to continue to represent this area.

Help your neighbors! Carry your share of the load! Mail your contribution today to Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Box 1108, Stamford, Tex. 79553.

If the television sets purchased nationally by electric co-op members in just one year were stacked side by side, they would stretch from Washington, D. C., to Toledo, Ohio.

Would you believe a stack of electric fry pans 16 miles high, or electric blankets stretching from South Texas to North Dakota?

This bonanza for the home town appliance dealer is a challenge to the management of Midwest Electric Cooperative. This ever increasing demand for more electricity calls for ever larger services . . . bigger lines . . . heavier poles . . . larger transformers . . . more sub-stations. But the Midwest Electric Cooperative will be ready with the power when you buy your next appliance, offering a low-cost dependable electric service that is Helping Texas Grow.

Curtis J. Carter Featured In Air Force Paper

In a recent article in Vapor Tales, an unofficial newspaper published bi-monthly at Oxnard Air Force Base, Calif., AIC Curtis J. Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Carter, was complimented for his work in 414 Fighter Group Headquarters Administration Services.

An administration clerk at Headquarters, Airman Carter will hold that position at his new assignment, Libya AB, Libya.

A first term airman, he does the usual abundance of typing and paperwork associated with his job but also maintains and posts constantly the master set of regulations in the Headquarters section. Coupled with these tasks he spends many hours in the classified section, handling secret and top secret information.

The supervisor of the section said, "Airman Carter is a very capable young fellow. He is a person you can depend on and is gaining knowledge rapidly in his field. He has always done a good job for me."

Before his enlistment in April, 1966, he was a keyboard machine operator at Celotex Corporation.

He and his wife, the former Teena Abbott of Albany, live in Ventura, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Longaria are parents of a girl, Mary Jane, born June 24 at 11:32 a.m. She weighed 10 lbs. 2 oz.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"Don't Blame Me!"

Startlingly simple was the defense offered by a young man accused of murdering his own father. "I'm a rough character," he conceded in court, "but only because my father brought me up that way. He taught me to drink whiskey, use a gun, and run around with a gang. So don't blame me for what I did. Blame my father."

No doubt the slain father bore a share of the fault. But the court held the son guilty anyhow, because he was old enough and rational enough to take responsibility for his own behavior.

To what degree should extenuating circumstances excuse what would otherwise be a crime? To what degree should a killer be allowed to blame his upbringing? a thief his poverty? a rapist his passion? a vandal his youthfulness?

In an earlier day, there was little of such talk in the courtroom. Wrong brought retribution almost as a matter of course. Scarcely a century ago, a murderer was put to death in an American prison even though he was only 12 years old.

But with greater insight into human motivations has come greater understanding in fixing blame.

Thus, mental deficiencies are increasingly taken into account—not only in deciding on legal guilt but also in setting the punishment. And all states recognize a minimum age below which a person cannot be held to criminal liability.

Nevertheless, while today's law avoids total irresponsibility, it also avoids total responsibility. It holds that most people, in most situations, do indeed have freedom of choice between doing right and doing wrong.

Because of that freedom, an individual is expected to stand on his own feet, be his own man, and

"take his medicine" for what he does wrong—just as he is entitled to take credit for what he does right.

In short, despite outer influence or inner weakness, despite the pressure of adversity or the lure of temptation, he usually has the power to refrain from harming others—if he tries hard enough.

And, for the sake of society, the law demands that he try that hard.

Work Started On Annual Cattleman's Round-Up

To anyone who knows anything about the Cattleman's Round-Up for Crippled Children, it will come as no great surprise to learn that C. A. (Charlie) Morris of Abilene has once again been named general chairman of the Round-Up which annually provides approximately one-third of the operating funds of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center here.

What may come as a surprise is the fact that he has been renamed so early. The giant sale is still nearly three months away — set for Sept. 30.

"I guess everybody in the Big Country — if not everybody in the state of Texas — knows that we had a long, hard winter," said District Judge

Raleigh Brown of Abilene, president of the WTRC board of directors. "We were face to face with the possibility of having to close the doors of the Center for good when the generous public came to our rescue."

Judge Brown referred to Operation Survival, when people from all over the nation chipped in a total of nearly $180,000 in less than two months when it became public that the non-profit Center had outgrown its budget.

All that money isn't gone, but a good part of it went to pay off old bills, and some of it to begin construction on a new wing to take care of the increased patient load," he explained. "It means, simply, that the Round-Up will have to be more productive than ever before so that the Center may continue to give the free treatments to the children of the Southwest."

Last year's Round-Up raised some $82,000 toward the Center's annual budget of some $262,000. Other funds come from memorial donations, Easter Seals, and various United Funds.

"We know that if we're to have a more successful Round-Up than in the past, we're going to have to start earlier, so that's what we're doing," Judge Brown said, adding that Morris would be appointing area chairmen in the near future.

"We'll start taking animals anytime now, and will feed them out until sale time," he said. The cattle will be quartered at the WTRC's own pens south of Abilene until sale date.

Most of the cattle begin arriving the week before the sale, but WTRC officials have already cleaned up their lots, hoping that cattlemen who plan to ship early will donate when they ship.

The September 30 sale is expected to receive hundreds of animals from ranchers throughout the Southwest. The Round-Up began in 1960 when Coke County rancher Conda Wylie donated 20 calves to the Center.

"We're ready to begin picking up stock anywhere and at any time," Morris said in accepting the job for the sixth straight year. Anyone wishing to make such arrangements should write The West Texas Rehabilitation Center at 4601 Hartford, Abilene, Texas, 79605, or phone Area Code 915 - 692-1633.
